Location	Cliff College, Derbyshire	Students are only expected to be on site during the teaching weeks for each level of qualification within the degree. They have access to library and learning resources throughout the year
Teaching weeks	Units are delivered in intensive teaching weeks. Students are expected to attend the requisite teaching weeks for 120 credits per level of the degree. A part time student attends 3 and half teaching weeks in the first year of Level 4, and 2 in the second year and then 3 weeks per year at Level 5 and 6. A full time student will be attending six teaching weeks per year. Teaching weeks run between September and May.	Teaching week dates are published one year in advance. In the unlikely event that exceptional circumstances require the dates to be changed, students will be offered alternative teaching within the programme
Timetabling	During a residential teaching week, students will be expected to attend 16 lectures/seminars; a tutorial; and ministerial formation activities including devotions and worship	Timetables are made available to students a minimum of two weeks prior to the teaching week via the online Moodle

2. Entry Requirements

Academic entry requirements	Qualifications that amount to 72 UCAS tariff points or equivalent Two positive references	Students will need to list all their qualifications on the application form, and provide the original certificates for a copy to be made by the College
Non-standard entry requirements	If students do not have the appropriate qualifications but their experience and understanding is deemed appropriate, applicants will be interviewed by the Programme Lead and be given the opportunity to complete a piece of work for assessment and/or attend a short course provided by the College	The Programme Lead will be responsible for assessing whether it is appropriate for an applicant to commence study based on the likelihood of their successfully completing the course.
Occupational health requirements	Students are expected to be involved in some kind of mission and ministry* related to their chosen specialism (Children, Youth, Third Age, Creative Arts, Sport or Family) Cliff College do request evidence of up to date DBS clearance	*It is expected that the church or agency will be responsible for health and safety compliance and safeguarding for this practice
Usual application and offer process	Students are expected to complete the BAMB Programme Application form available on the website, and send it to the Programme Administrator. This will be assessed by the Programme Lead, who will recommend the offer of a place on the course, or further action to be taken by the applicant	Students can expect a response from the Programme Administrator within a week during term time, and a fortnight during holidays. Dependent on the nature of the application, offers or conditions are likely to be made within one month of receipt of application and references

3. Programme Structure and delivery

Purpose of the programme	To develop students' knowledge and understanding of Christian mission and ministry and offer specialist lay ministerial training for those working with children, young people, older people or families, or through creative arts or sport	Students completing the entire degree programme can combine two specialisms, subject to successful completion of appropriate units
Key features of the programme	Theological, theoretical and practical learning about specialist fields of mission and ministry delivered by expert practitioners in the field.	The part time nature of the course means that it is appropriate for those wishing to study and stay involved in their local community, offering the opportunity to continue in post whilst gaining a worthwhile qualification
Employability	Students who successfully complete their BA (Hons) in Mission and Ministry could be employed by churches as a mission and/or ministry worker in their specialist field; or at a regional or national level within a parachurch organisation (depending on the student's level of experience).	Former graduates of the BA in Mission and Ministry Programme are now employed in a number of key roles at regional and national levels within the UK and in overseas mission.
Organisation of academic year	Most intensive teaching weeks for each level of the qualification are delivered between September and June	Dates for teaching weeks are available on the website
Course structure	Students are required to complete 120 credits per level of the programme. Most units are twenty credits and covered in one intensive teaching week. During the teaching week students are taken through the assessment for that unit, and given tutorial support.	Students can graduate with a Higher Education Certificate on completion of 120 credits at Level 4; A Diploma on completion of 120 credits at Level 4 and 120 credits at Level 5; and a BA (Hons) on completion of an additional 120 credits including a 40 credit dissertation
